

This Privacy Policy notice discloses the privacy practices of cloudemployee.co.uk and how the collection of personal data from users is processed. This privacy notice solely applies to information collected by this website.

COLLECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We may collect personal information from users who voluntarily give us their information in various ways, including, but not limited to, registration of users in any of the contact forms in our site, subscription to our newsletter, interaction with our chat-box or any other activities or features available on our site. Users, however, may navigate our site anonymously.

USE OF COLLECTED PERSONAL INFORMATION

Users will be asked for their name, email address, contact numbers or any other information necessary to fulfill specific requests. We will use this information for the following purposes:

- Respond to your enquiries or why you contacted us
- Improve our site to further personalize the user experience
- Improve our customer service
- Unless you ask us not to, send occasional emails about our products and services, promos, newsletters, surveys, and news

Users may opt out of receiving future emails from us at any time. A detailed instruction on how to unsubscribe may be found at the bottom of each of our email or users may contact us via our site.

Users may opt in or update their given personal information by informing us via email or through our site.

SECURITY AND PROTECTION OF COLLECTED PERSONAL INFORMATION

We take precautions in protecting your personal information and any other data collected from users. We protect your information against alteration, unauthorized access or destruction of your given personal information and all other data collected and stored on our site.

While we use encryption to protect your information online, we also protect it offline. Only selected employees are granted access to your personal information in order to perform your requests or complete specific tasks.

The servers/computers in which we store all collected data are placed in a secure environment.

We do not trade or sell collected users' personal information to others. However, we may, with a limited purpose, use third party service providers to help us perform specific tasks or perform activities on our behalf such as sending out newsletters or surveys. These parties are not allowed to use users' personal information except for the purpose of providing these services.

Our site contains links to other sites. These sites may have their own privacy policies. Interactions of users to any of these other sites are subject to the website's privacy policies and terms and conditions. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the privacy policies of such other sites.

CHANGES TO PRIVACY POLICY

Cloud Employee may update its privacy policy at any time. We encourage users to frequently visit this page for any changes on how we protect and secure users' collected personal information. We shall revise the date at the bottom of this page when updates or changes to this policy have been made.

ACCEPTANCE OF PRIVACY POLICY

By using this site, you signify your agreement to our website's privacy policy. If you do not agree with our privacy policy, you may discontinue accessing our site. We shall regard your continued use of our site following any updates or changes to our site's privacy policy as an acceptance of the recent changes made.
